THE NEW OFFICIALS.

Appointments Made for the Departments of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus.

COMPANY READY FOR BUSINESS

A. A. Patterson, Jr. is the General Manager and Other Wise Selections Are Made.

The appointment of officers to manage the various departments of the business of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company was made last night, and the company is now in a position to proceed with the transaction of the general business of a railroad company. The appointments follow:

General Manager—A. A. Patterson, Jr.

Superintendent—D. H. Patterson.

Auditor—Joseph W. Johnston.

General Freight and Passenger Agent—H. E. Dickinson.

General Agent—L. O. Schaeffer.

Chief Engineer—E. C. Hurd.

The officers are all known here with the exception of Messrs. Johnston and Dickinson, the former having been a resident of South Bend, Ind., and the latter a resident of Milwaukee. They are all experienced in railroad business, and all well equipped for the duties of their respective positions.

A. A. Patterson, Jr., possesses the ability to master the arduous duties of general manager and his brother, D. H. Patterson, is no less able to perform the work connected with the superintendent's office. The honorable business methods adopted by these gentlemen in the capacity of builders of the new road recommend them to the confidence of the public.

Joseph W. Johnston, the auditor, is 30 years of age. He is married and will move his family here from South Bend as soon as he can procure a home. Mr. Johnston served the Mobile & Ohio railway in the capacity of agent and passenger conductor for two years and for the last eight years has been retained by the Studebaker brothers' manufacturing company, of South Bend, as manager of the cost department, which experience peculiarly fits him for his new position.

H. E. Dickinson, general freight and passenger agent, began his career as a railroad man as a brakeman for the St. Paul & Duluth company. He has been in the railroad business for 24 years, having managed the business of the Milwaukee & Eastern transportation company for four years and served the Chicago & Northwestern for five years. For four years he was with the freight department of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. He is married and expects to bring his family here from Milwaukee immediately.

L. O. Schaeffer, the general agent, is not a stranger to Benton Harbor people. Until two years ago he was agent for the Big Four here and for many years has been connected with railroads. He is well qualified for the position he holds.

E. C. Hurd, the chief engineer, has long been a resident of Benton Harbor. He has been employed with the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company as surveyor since its inception. He thoroughly understands the duties of his office.

The company has issued a time card which takes effect next Thursday. It shows the operation of two passenger trains, north and south, between here and Berrien Springs each day. No. 1 leaves here at 7:15 in the morning and arrives at Berrien Springs at 8:05. No. 3 departs at 4:45 in the afternoon and reaches Berrien Springs at 5:35. Going north No. 2 leaves Berrien Springs at 8:30 in the morning and arrives in Benton Harbor at 9:20, and No. 4 leaves Berrien Springs at 6:30 and at 7:30 arrives in Benton Harbor.

The card bears the names of four stations, Benton Harbor, Berrien Springs, Oakland and Buchanan. Trains for the present will go no further than Berrien Springs, the road not being in a condition for traffic beyond that point. The company will begin the carrying of freight at once. The erection of a temporary depot on the company's right-of-way between Park and Territorial streets has begun under the supervision of Contractor Richards and the structure will be in a condition for occupancy in a few days.

PROMPT SETTLEMENT.

Edward Jeru Received $1,750 Insurance Today.

The adjuster of the Imperial Insurance company was in the city today and settled with Edward Jeru for his recent loss of his boarding house and home.

Mr. Jeru held a policy in the Imperial for $1,750 and he was settled with in full.

Plummer & Riford are the agents for the Imperial company. They have 40 companies and are the largest insurance agency in the state.

Slaughtering Prices. We are on the warpath and must slaughter our goods if low prices will do it. Next Saturday we will sell a 20-year warranted, gold filled, ladies' or gents' hunting case watch and a 15 jewel Elgin movement for $14.25. Don't miss it. (This for only.)

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday with increasing cloudiness. Wednesday slightly cooler.

PHISCATER'S GOLD.

That's All Baroda People Are Talking About.

Frank Phiscater and his gold is all you can hear on the streets of Baroda. Men forget to wrangle over politics and women to scold their children so intent are they on discussing the miner and his wealth.

Men drive for many miles from the surrounding country to see him and ask questions of the country he has left. To all he is polite and friendly but says he is tired of telling the story over so often.

He says he has a gang of men at work on his claim the foreman of which gets $500 per month. He intends telling his story to some city paper and have them publish it so as to relieve him from the grip of letters that are pouring in from all sides asking how to get there what it costs and what they use in that far away country.

He leaves here Friday for New York to spend a few months and then he will come here and remain until March when he, with two companions will start for the Klondike again. He says $98,000 is what he mined and that the claim is worth $1,000,000.

CHARLES J. GUY MARRIED.

Ceremony Was Solemnized at Kankakee, Ill.

Charles J. Guy of this city and Miss Lotte Barco, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., were married yesterday afternoon at Kankakee, Ill. They arrived in Benton Harbor this morning. Mr. Guy is the owner of the shaving parlors in the Yore block where he does a very extensive business. They will begin house-keeping at once.

AROUND THE WORLD.

James Kakebeke Will Leave for the Trip Tomorrow.

James Kakebeke, who came to this city a few years ago from Holland to attend college and who has since leaving school studied law in the office of Attorney Sears, will leave tomorrow for his home in Holland on the Hague. After spending two months with his parents he will leave for the South African Republic and will make a two-years' trip around the world, taking in the Paris exposition.

Mr. Kakebeke is an ardent admirer of the Topic wheel and is having his wheel crated and will ride it on his trip around the world.

Rise of Wheat Has Forced the Price Up on the Staff of Life.

Owing to the steady rise in wheat, flour has necessarily become more expensive and as a result bread has gone up in price. Although the increase has not become general as yet, one firm has advanced the price to 4 cents.

B. Vandecar, of the Columbian restaurant says: "Every loaf of bread I sell I lose money but nevertheless I will sell as cheap and as long as anyone."

S. M. Austin says: "We are selling at a loss and the price of bread will certainly advance in a few days."

Morrow & Stone say, they will make no change in their price at present.

THOSE SIDEWALKS.

The New Ordinance Goes Into Effect Tomorrow.

The new sidewalk ordinance will go into effect tomorrow, and many of the property holders who have repaired their old walks with the expectation of evading the requirements of the new ordinance will be disappointed.

The street commissioner is instructed by the ordinance to inspect all walks in the city and if he finds an old one, newly repaired, which in his mind is dangerous he will so report it and the council will order a new walk which must be constructed of stone or cement if it happens to be on a street designated in the ordinance as requiring walks of such material.

There are many walks which have been repaired which the street commissioner, upon close inspection, will probably find are not safe; which have decayed foundations and are otherwise defective.

New methods, new styles and low prices are all found at I. O. Ferring's photograph gallery, 129 Pipestone street, ground floor.

ARE DISAPPOINTED.

Over 100 Sports Expected to See a Prize Fight.

Pugilists Silverthorn, of Chicago, and "Doc" Calderwood, of this city, had an agreement to meet last night but a misunderstanding at the last moment prevented it.

Over 100 sports had boarded the river steamer Tourist which was to take the principals and the spectators to the big island in the St. Joseph river, a short distance above Napier's bridge, where the contest could be pulled off without interference from the officers. At 11 o'clock the boat was all ready to leave the dock when Calderwood insisted that he would not go until some money was in sight.

He was assured that every man on board the boat would pay $1, but this guarantee was not satisfactory. He wanted the collection made and the money placed in the hands of a disinterested person. He had sized up the crowd and obtained an impression that Silverthorn had too many sympathizers and that there was a possibility of his being mulcted even though he won the fight. The agreement provided that if Calderwood stood up before Silverthorn four rounds he was to receive 60 per cent of the gate receipts, and the defeated fighter 40 per cent.

It was hard to get the gate receipts before the fight was pulled off. The sports were disposed to see the fight before parting with their $1 and as none of them had any inclination to advance $100 for a stake and assume the risk of being able to collect it from the spectators Calderwood's demands could not be acceded to.

Calderwood was not overly anxious to go against Silverthorn in the feeble light of torches on an island where Silverthorn's friends outnumbered his 10 to one. He had some doubt of being able to get justice and therefore was not particularly anxious to see any money. Calderwood did not go aboard the boat and when the confab was ended and he started to leave the dock one of the sports shouted, "I am worth $10,000 and I have $150 in my hand which is yours if you stay two rounds with Silverthorn." The offer was not accepted.

The crowd on the boat included sports from Chicago, Watervliet and Coloma in addition to the local prize fighting admirers. Calderwood claims that he has had the short end of the stick all along; that the agreement was to have the contest at Pottawatomie park last Sunday afternoon. Silverthorn backed out and insisted that it be held in St. Joseph last night. Later he informed Calderwood that the officers had threatened to pinch them if they fought in St. Joseph and proposed the plan of going up the river. Calderwood conceded until he discovered there was no money up when he weakened.

STATE FINANCES.

The Last Legislature Cost the People Over $125,000.

LANSING, August 24.—There is a vast amount of information that is of interest and importance to the taxpayers of Michigan in the report of State Treasurer Steel for the last fiscal year, inasmuch as it sets forth in detail the financial transactions of the state for that period.

The receipts of the year from all sources were $3,603,129.57, and the disbursements $3,731,663.96. The balance at the close of the year was $783,888.04, as against $912,422.43 in 1896.

The condition of the several funds at the close of the year was as follows: Balance in general fund, $540,927.27; Agricultural college interest fund, $37,374.40; Normal school interest fund, $989.18; primary school interest fund, $110,233.63; university interest fund, $19,816.84; sundry deposits account, $5,519.50; St. Mary's canal fund, $68,927.12.

The outstanding bonds of the state now are $10,992.83 past due five million loan bonds, which bear no interest.

The trust fund debt is as follows: Agricultural college fund, $569,951.82; normal school fund, $65,945.12; primary school fund, 5 per cent, $529,069.38; primary school fund, 7 per cent, $3,815,457.69; university fund, $529,021.59; total, $6,810,045.60.

The general fund disbursements of $2,717,693.14 included all the appropriations for the state institutions for the year. Other of the more important items are as follows: Support of the insane, $502,003.08; awards of board of state auditors, $181,374.69; support of militia, $51,665.64; salaries of state officers, clerks and judges of courts, $370,626.83; expense of sales and collecting delinquent state tax, $61,907.75; per diem, mileage, stationary and other expenses of the last legislature, $125,330.33.

No legislative appropriation for the current expenses of the penal institutions of the state is made, these institutions being permitted to draw from the state treasury whatever may be necessary for this purpose. The amounts drawn during the year were as follows: State house of correction, $58,000; state prison, $16,000; Marquette prison, $36,000. The balance of the expense was paid out of the earnings.

Cyclists on M. C. Track at Galian Pay $1 Each.

GALIAN, August 24.—The Michigan Central railroad, with its double track between Kensington and Niles, has become quite a place for cross-country bicycle-riders. A few days ago the company set up signs as follows:

"Warning! Bicycle riding on railroad right of way is dangerous, unlawful and strictly forbidden."

This proves to be a good thing for a well-dressed fellow who rides along the track and taxes every bicycle rider he meets $1 for the privilege of riding. He represents himself as an official of the road.

CAPITAL OF $20,000.

It Will be Had by E. A. Nichols, Alaskan Party.

The Alaskan party of which E. A. Nichols will be a member will have a capital of $20,000. All of the fortune seekers but Mr. Nichols live at Seymour, Mo., and include M. L. Winans, well known in Benton Harbor.

The party will start between February 1 and 15 and the route it will take depends on the conveniences, if any, the government will provide for tourists taking the over land route. In its present condition that route is unpopular except to those capable of enduring great hardships. It is expected that easier means of reaching the Klondike by the mountain pass will be provided by spring in which case Mr. Nichols and his party will take that route.

Constitution and Guerriers.

The Constitution's guns were double shot with round and grape. The broadside was as one single explosion, and the destruction was terrific. The enemy's decks were flooded, and the blood ran out of the scuppers—her cockpit filled with the wounded. For a few minutes, shrouded in smoke, they fought at the distance of half pistol shot. In that short time the Englishman was literally torn to pieces in hull, spars, sails and rigging. As her mizzenmast gave way the Englishman brought up to the wind, and the Constitution slowly forged ahead, fired again, luffed short round the other's bows and, owing to a heavy sea, fell foul of her antagonist, with her bowsprit across her larboard quarter. While in this position Hull's cabin was set on fire by the enemy's forward battery, and part of the crew were called away from the guns to extinguish the threatening blaze. —Barnes' "Naval Actions of the War of 1812."

Gone Over to Bacon.

"I believe," said the funny boarder, "that the landlady has been won over to the anti-Shakespeare crowd."

"Will you please elucidate?" asked the long armed.

"Well, she gives us bacon for breakfast every morning now, you will note."

A "Dead" Man Tells His Story.

HOWARD CITY, MICH., July 21, 1897. To Drs. B. S. & Co.

GENTLEMEN:—I am the dead man that came to see you three years ago last February. At that time I was about in my grave. No one that knew me ever thought that I would ever be any better. My kidneys, liver and lungs were all affected, also my digestive organs, producing heart trouble hence I was about done up and felt so. I did not think there was help for me, but as it is said a dying man will catch at a straw, I tried Drs. B. S. & Co. as a last resort and today am all o. k. on my feet again and have taken up wheat from a good man without trouble this harvest I raked and bound and kept up as of old. Who would believe it? No one who did not see me, or so to speak, when I first saw Dr. Booth. I am 64 years old and I called on Dr. Booth today, walking eight miles to see him, and am going to walk back this p. m., making 16 miles of walk today. I always like to see Dr. Booth and I feel he saved my life, hence I make this long walk. Will answer any questions that anyone wishes to ask about Drs. B. S. & Co., or their treatment. My address is Amble. W. T. CARR.

These renowned physicians will visit St. Joseph, Lake View hotel, Tuesday, August 24; Benton Harbor, Hotel Benton, Wednesday, August 25; Coloma, Teeter hotel, Thursday, August 26; in the private parlor of the hotels.

Now that the mushroom season is at its height, cases of toadstool poisoning are reported daily. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Yellowstone Lake.
"There is an individuality about lakes. Perhaps the most striking thing about Yellowstone lake is its high altitude. It is up among the mountains and clouds in Yellowstone park nearly a mile and a half—7,741 feet—above where the sportive summer girl sits on the beach at the Atlantic ocean while the lazy wavelets ripple about her dainty toes. But as high as it is the mountains rise higher still by thousands of feet. In a solemn, owl-like fashion they blink down at the lake, and the lake blinks back at them. These mountains are well defined peaks, and cones, and turrets, and nearly all are named. Some of them are in this way redolent of the old explorers, the men who first braved the perils and difficulties of an unknown, untrodden wilderness. Such are Colter peak and Mount Doane."
The above is taken from "Wonderland '97," a beautiful new Tourist book published by the Northern Pacific railway. It will be mailed to any address upon receipt of six cents in stamps by CHAS. S. FEE, Gen'l Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Wanted—An experienced budder to plant trees. Enquire of Irving McLeod, 245 E. Second St.

A professor of physical culture announces that he has discovered an intimate connection between deformities of the nose and the position of the feet. His name is H. L. Pinner, and he communicates his observations to the New York Journal:
"You can tell a pigeon-toed person without looking at his feet or seeing him walk. The discovery was made by me in 1891 while teaching physical culture. I found a stubborn awkwardness in the movements of my pupils' feet. Looking for the cause, I found that many of them were pigeon-toed. In others one foot was correct and the other turned in."
"In teaching correct breathing I had to investigate the condition of the nasal passages. Then I found that wherever the person was pigeon-toed in the right foot the right nostril was stopped up or otherwise deformed. It was the same with the left foot or nostril. If both nostrils were defective, both feet were pigeon-toed."
At one time I examined 36 persons, and every one of them was pigeon-toed in the left foot, with a corresponding defect in the left nostril. At another time I examined over 40 with a view to testing my discovery. Some of them had well developed nostrils and were not at all pigeon-toed. Some had overwide nostrils, with overwide angles at the feet to correspond.

"Girls I found more generally and worse pigeon-toed than boys. The person who has a whining or snuffing voice is usually pigeon-toed."
"Another discovery is that with the defective nostrils were found invariably stooped shoulders and hollow chests, the stoop and hollow always bearing a direct ratio with the defect. In extreme cases there was an ugly protrusion of the abdomen, a tendency to draw back and upward the upper lip, exposing the teeth, that have also an unsightly protruding tendency."

"Conversely, tell him to place the end of the thumb under and against the nostrils alternately, breathing through the open one each time, and ask him which nostril admits the greater amount of air. If it is the left, tell him he is pigeon-toed in the right foot and vice versa. Demonstrate by having him walk naturally."

English Divorce Laws.
The children of the marriage are the husband's if he chooses to have them, but if he does not care to perform a father's duty the wife must support them. If he is unfaithful to her, she cannot divorce him (in England) unless he has also committed the ungentlemanly sin of personal cruelty, and in all cases of divorce and separation it is a man's reading of the man made laws that entirely decides not only the case, but the consequences, as to the custody of the children and the amount of alimony. And if, despairing of justice, the faithful wife endures patiently through life for the sake of her children's future, the English law permits an unfaithful husband and father at death to will away every penny of his property from his wife and children to a charity, a stranger or a mistress, possibly leaving those whom the law made his dependents dependent on the ratepayers of his parish. This is not possible in Scotland, nor was it formerly possible in England. The law of dower protected the widow until this century, when men tinkered the laws so as to gain a larger latitude for themselves. The operation of this masculine privilege often gives opportunity for cruel oppression not dreamed of by right minded men. In fact, it is only because the large majority of men are better than the laws allow them to be that society is possible.—Humanitarian the movements by which they escape a world of pain—trials of the future who has a call to sell—rough riders of different countries.

"How does it feel to ride a buck jumper?"

Many years ago we asked this question of a well known rough rider on first meeting him.

"You'll be surprised when you try," was the reply. "The smash of his hoofs on the ground is what you'll notice principally. It comes like a pistol shot, and it's enough to make your jaws crack. Another thing is that his head goes out of sight altogether, between his fore legs. But the real job is when he goes in for side work and tries to catch his tail like a young dog. Even if you stick to him then, you're lucky if he doesn't work the saddle over his head."

"You don't mean without breaking the girther?" we exclaimed.

"Certainly," he replied. "Ask any man who has broken wild horses whether a bad one can't jump out of the saddle. If you can sit him till the third 'buck,' you are supposed to be able to sit him, but let me say that you don't always get to the third."

As we have sat (and also been thrown) by buck jumpers since then we can indorse unreservedly every word of this authority on the subject. To say one is surprised is a mild term to employ. On our first attempt our chief astonishment was at the infinitesimal time it took to reach the ground after the horse began to "go to work."

Many who know anything of riding in this (so called) horse loving nation of ours will think they have ridden a "buck" often and require no information on the subject. Be assured, however, reader, that it is an exceedingly rare thing. We have known men who have broken horses on colonial cattle stations for 30 years and have never seen a real buck jumper.

A reason for this is the fact, which all do not know, that only horses of certain strains can "buck." A vicious horse may rear and fall back on his rider, or he may roll on the ground and proceed to devour him—and these habits are no doubt unpleasant and not to be recommended (in a child's pony, for instance), but if he hasn't got the right breed he will never "buck."

One of the innumerable popular delusions about horses is that buck jumpers which are exhibited in public, like Buffalo Bill's, for instance, have received careful training in the art. Any one who has broken horses will know that in their wild state they require no instruction whatever in this direction. The whole art of breaking consists in teaching them not to "buck." This is why our colonies supply the buck jumpers of the world. Time there is money, and hands cannot long be spared for breaking. The 2-year-old is driven into the yard (having possibly never seen a man before), roped up, cast, and while he is on the ground a saddle and bridle are worked on to him. A rough rider is put up, he drives the spurs well home, and there you have an inveterate buck jumper for life.

Put yourself in the horse's place, and you will hardly wonder at it. He is by nature morbidly nervous, and man is a thing almost unknown till now. The horrid black object on his back is to him the foul fiend incarnate, and the first step in breaking he supposes to be the final dissolution of the universe.

In Australia it used to be no uncommon thing that a man who had a colt to sell got him broken in two hours before the sale. The whole process cost just 10 shillings.

The rough rider was hoisted up, and the colt went through his repertoire of contortions, being occasionally lashed from behind with a stock whip to insure all traces of vice being thoroughly eradicated. By the time of the sale he was naturally so exhausted that all attempts at "playing up" were (for the time being, of course) out of the question. The mark of the saddle was pointed out as proof positive that he could be ridden, and he changed hands, guaranteed thoroughly quiet and broken to saddle.

Unless he was a first class rider the experience of the buyer on mounting him next day would be both unexpected and exhilarating.

Who are the best riders in the world? The Australians say they are, and they are supported by most competent judges. South Americans claim to be as good, and they are certainly good riders, but not so scientific. They are satisfied if they can stick on and even resort to putting the spurs between the girths for a foothold. Australians would scorn such means. If good riders, they will sit correctly even under the most difficult circumstances.

Can buck jumping be cured? It cannot, or rather we should modify this statement by saying that it can. It cannot because buck jumping is an ingrained vice, the result of fear, and once learned, is never forgotten. It can, like all other vices, be subdued by steady work and careful handling, but recollect that, once these are left off, it may return. At all events such a "reformed" animal can never be ridden by a lady.—Chambers' Journal.

He Knew Her Name.

The following funny dialogue recently occurred in an English country church when the rector was catechizing the children. "What is your name?" he asked a strapping girl of 18, the only daughter of the village boniface. He expected no reply. "What is your name?" he asked the minister in a more serious way. "Min o' yet fan, parson, I am no name verro well."

"What is your name?" he asked the minister in a more serious way. "Min o' yet fan, parson, I am no name verro well."

throughout the good steel run of $30,000. The Mazarin Bible is so called because a copy of it was first discovered by De Bure in the library of Cardinal Mazarin, in Paris, about 1760. Its value for book collectors lies in the fact that it is the first book of any magnitude printed from movable type. It was issued by Gutenberg at Mainz, in 1485-5, and for that reason Henry Stevens calls it the Gutenberg Bible. It is divided into two volumes, the first containing 324 and the second 317 pages, each page consisting of two columns. The characters, which are Gothic, are large and handsome and very much resemble manuscript. Before the discovery of this Bible the so called Bamberg Bible of Pfister was generally regarded as the first printed book, but that honor is now universally accorded to the former work.

According to Dr. Austin Allibone, there are six known copies of the Mazarin Bible on vellum, one of which is the volume found in the Mazarin library. The copies on vellum, however, are later than the copies on paper, 21 of which are known to be in existence. There is a vellum copy of the Bible in the British museum and a paper copy in the Lenox library of this city. The present value of a perfect copy of the Mazarin Bible on paper is about $15,000, and those on vellum are valued at about $30,000. Practically, however, their value is a variable quantity, depending on what the book collectors are willing to give for them. It has long been a matter of dispute whether the types employed in printing this Bible were metallic or wooden, but the question is still undecided. As a specimen of early printing the work is magnificent, containing richly embellished capitals in blue, red and purple.—New York Tribune.

A SMUGGLER'S TRICK.

He Carried His Wares Openly, Yet Fooled the Customs Officials.

"All this talk about smuggling recalls some of the things I learned when I was in the service," announced a retired crook catcher the other day. "New ways of beating the government are being devised right along, and many of the tricks I discovered are old now. There used to be more trouble with the diamond smugglers than there appears to be at present. I have found the sparklers in women's back hair, hat ornaments, hollowed shoe heels and sewed up in various articles of wear, in dog collars, in horses' hocks, in fruits and vegetables, in trunks with false bottoms, in pipes and cigars, in canes, on the necks of carrier pigeons and even buried in men's flesh after the manner of the Kaffir diamond thieves."

"But the man who did the slickest business without ever being suspected told me about it afterward. He was a retired detective who had served with great credit. Shortly before resigning he claimed to have received a beautiful diamond ring with three very large stones from a New Yorker for whom he had been able to save a good deal of money. It was certainly a magnificent ring, and the matter was duly exploited in the papers. He professed to be doing a private business that took him across the river frequently, and he would often use the ferry three or four times a day. He always wore the dazzling ring, and I looked at it every day for months. Yet that fellow was making big money smuggling diamonds."

"How? Why, he had a paste ring made exactly like the genuine one. He would wear the paste one over, leave it to be set with diamonds, wear them back, have them replaced with paste and thus carry on the game right before our admiring eyes. We never suspected the rascal."—Detroit Free Press.

A Great Shot.

The Duke of Malakoff was at a batue at Strathfieldsaye and shot nothing, much to his disgust, and when the day was over it appeared that he would be extremely put out unless he was allowed or enabled to kill something. So in spite of all the gamekeeper could think, feel or say a pheasant was procured, tied by its leg to the top of a post, and Malakoff was put some 80 yards off with a double barreled gun. It was supposed that he would thereupon and thence take two shots at the bird. Not a bit of it. He loaded both barrels, walked close up to the pheasant, put the muzzle close to him and discharged both barrels into him, with "Hei coquin." The next day the Duke of Wellington told the keeper that Malakoff was a great man who had smoked to death 500 Arab men, women and children in a cave, to which the gamekeeper replied: "Like enough, your grace. He'd be capable of anything."—Letters of Lord Blackford.

The Very Earliest Coins.

No one knows exactly when or where the original coin was "struck" or what metal was used. Certain passages in Homer would lead to the inference that brass was coined as early as the year 1184 B. C. Tradition affirms that the Chinese had bronze coins as early as the year 1190 B. C. But Herodotus, the acknowledged "Father of History," is of the opinion that the Lydians "invented" coins some time during the ninth century B. C. One of the oldest coins now known is a gold daric, coined by the Persians during the reign of Darius. On one side of this coin is a bust of Darius and on the other side a figure of a kneeling archer.

White Dome Geyser Yellowstone Park.

A mile and a half from the Fountain Hotel, and easily reached by bicycle, tourist wagon, or by walking, lies a hidden basin full of nature's caprices. At the entrance, as if on guard, stands the immaculate White Dome. As one approaches, he almost expects to be challenged and asked for a countersign. If such a challenge is given it is in a curious fashion, in the form of a geyser eruption, for the White Dome is a geyser. It is not unlike the Castle Geyser, or the White Pyramid of the Upper Geyser Basin. The geyser is a very white, rather dome-shaped mound, built up from the secretions of its waters, and is the most conspicuous feature of the locality. It is perhaps 25 feet high, with a circumference at the base of 75 or 100 feet. Its eruptions come at intervals of from twenty to forty-five minutes, being somewhat irregular, and the water is thrown to a height of from ten to twenty-five feet.

CHICAGOAN JUMPS ON RATCHFORD.

Turns Himself Loose with a Lot of Uncom-
plimentary Adjectives and Then Leaves
the Meeting—Nothing Important Done,
But Will Confer Again Today—Ratchford
Makes Some Comments on Rend—Debs
Calls on the Social Democracy to Go to St.
Louis—In Indiana and Illinois.

Pittsburg, Aug. 24.—It was a lively meeting of operators and mine workers here yesterday. During the forenoon there was a split among the producers.
The miners' officials wanted to know if every operator in the district was represented; they received a negative reply,
and in turn told the operators that there were others down stairs, notably John Blythe and J. W. Shields, who were not represented. They adjourned and promised to have the remaining operators present. At the afternoon session there were present on behalf of the miners National President Ratchford, National
Secretary-Treasurer Pearce, District
President Dolan, First Vice President
McKay and Secretary Warner. President Ratchford made a statement of the case. He said on former occasions the miners went to the operators, when with crocodile tears the conditions were deplored by the operators. Now, he said, it was different, the operators had come to the miners. He expressed himself in favor of arbitration at a living rate of wages.

Rend Turns Himself Loose.
This brought Colonel W. P. Rend to his feet. He said that there could be no arbitration on the lines as laid down by Ratchford. He referred to the meeting at St. Louis. When Ratchford intimated that a universal strike and a demand for eight-hour day and a readjustment of the wage question would be the result of the St. Louis convention Colonel Rend replied by calling Ratchford a villain, traitor, blackguard and anarchist. With emphasis he told him: that seven anarchists had been hung in Chicago, and all were better than he; that if he precipitated an insurrection in this country he would be hung and when he was hung he (Rend) wanted to pull the rope. Col-

Then the Work Began.
Then the conference got down to work.
President Ratchford made an apology
for some of the statements he had made and Dolan made a statement that his position was almost similar to that of Ratchford. The operators then decided that a committee be appointed to meet with the miners' officials and if possible come to some agreement. A short conference was held with the committee and it was agreed to meet at 8 p. m. and if possible arrive at some conclusion. The conference was held and it lasted for several hours. Propositions were made and discussed and an adjournment taken until 10 o'clock this morning without a conclusion being reached. The point at issue is the rate of wages which shall be paid pending the decision of the board of arbitrators.

Ratchford "Alludes at" Rend.
In the course of a statement Ratchford made last night he said: "If I am a traitor to the cause of labor why should Colonel Rend and I disagree?
Rend accused John McBride of selling
the strike of 1894; he accused Phil Penna, whom I succeeded, of being a coal operator and working in league with operators. It is the most natural thing that he should accuse me after disagreement.
I am not the least bit alarmed about Rend's accusation. I would have as soon have him accuse me as to have his friendship. John Nugent, of Ohio, and Pat Dolan, of Pittsburg, were also among the accused men. In fact everybody who has ever served in an official capacity has been accused by Rend whenever he failed to agree with him."

Debs Calls on His Organization.
Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 24.—Eugene
V. Debs yesterday issued a call "To the Social Democracy, and all lovers of liberty and fair play," to attend the conference at St. Louis next Monday. When,
he says, "prompt, united and vigorous action will be taken" in regard to the miners' strike, and especially the course of the judiciary in issuing restraining orders. He says: "The hour has struck to call a halt." In conclusion he says:
"Every atom of American manhood revolts against the spectacle. Judges by the usurpation of power and playing the role of tyrants have annihilated the constitution, abrogated the right of trial by jury, forbidden free speech, suppressed peaceable assemblage and transformed our republic into absolute despotism. They are guilty of judicial treason and should be made to answer
at the bar of an outraged people."

What Judge Terhune Has to Say of His Experiences in That State.
Lebanon, Ind., Aug. 24.—Judge Thomas J. Terhune, of this city, the commissioner appointed by Governor Mount to investigate the condition and grievances
of the striking coal miners of this state, delivered an address on the subject before a large audience at the Methodist church Sunday night. His description of the scenes of distress and want which came to his notice while visiting the mining camps was touching to the extreme. Judge Terhune said in part:
"The cause of the striking miners is one which must appeal to the sympathy of all who are acquainted with their condition and grievances.

"That their cause is just none can deny. A few years ago they received $1.25 per ton. Now the wages paid for ordinary pick mining in Indiana, after deducting the cost of blacksmithing, powder and other expenses, average about 35 cents per ton. A good miner can probably take out three tons a day.
They are allowed to work only two or three days per week, and that under most discouraging conditions. In the block coal region, where the vein is only three feet thick, they are often compelled to lay on their side for hours waiting for cars to be furnished."

The judge told of a child dying of starvation and of a family so poor that it had been shown by a doctor that it was a case of starvation.

company's books show a balance in favor of the company. We estimated that about 1,000 families in Vigo, Green, Ver-million and Sullivan counties are completely destitute. Unless relief comes at once the result is beyond imagination."

Organized Labor Will Meet Tonight and Denounce the Same.

Pittsburg, Aug. 24.—The shooting affair
among the Italian miners of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company was made the occasion of a call for a general meeting of organized labor this evening at Knights of Labor hall. The call is as follows: "Armed assassins in the employ of the corporations are intimidating and shooting down our brothers who are struggling for living wages. We feel that appeals to the courts would be useless for reasons known to all of us. In order, then, to get your advice and assistance at this trying time we are earnestly requesting
you in the name of American manhood
and our children's future liberty to meet in conference with us on Tuesday evening, Aug. 24, 1897." This is signed by J. P. Dolan and William Warner, of the Mine Workers.

The call is endorsed by Paul St. Peter, secretary of the Window Glass Workers; M. P. Carrack, general president of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators; W. J. Smith, president of the American Flint Glass Workers; N.
M. Garland, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, and J. D. McFarland, of the Knights of Labor. "The shooting at Oak Hill," said Secretary Warner,
"shows beyond a doubt that what I said to Judge Stowe at the injunction hearings was true. The intimidation is all practiced by the other side. Men are encouraged to go and attack those who will not work. We have not intimidated
the company's men. They do not want to go to work for the wages they get
and when they refuse fire arms are to be used to coerce them."

President Dolan, had a narrow escape from death at 9 a. m. yesterday, and John McLuckie, the camp commissary, was badly hurt by being struck by a train. The two men were hurrying along the Panhandle tracks to catch a train at Sturgeon station. They did not notice the train they were to take was not on the usual track, and it came up behind them. McLuckie was struck on the right side and fell. He was stunned and Dolan was shoved aside. He called to McLuckie to lie still, for if he had moved a couple of inches he would have been crushed.
Dolan said it was the closest call he ever had. The eighteen strikers who were arrested at "Camp Injunction," at the Bunola mines for disorderly conduct and sent to jail for ten days, were released during the morning. All returned to the camp.

AT THE ILLINOIS DIGGINGS.

Several Changes in the Situation but Nothing Startling Happening.

St. Louis, Aug. 24.—Specials to The Republic from different sections of the Illinois coal fields show the various changes that have taken place during the past twenty-four hours. At Fair-bury the band of striking coal miners which has been camping near that city since Saturday night apparently has gained its point, as the miners at both the Co-operative and Walton Brothers' shafts came out at noon yesterday, and joined the strikers.

The only development in the strike
situation at Decatur was the discovery
by the leaders of the Springfield strikers
that during the night most of the men from that city had packed up and marched home. A meeting was held last night, but it is not expected that anything to encourage the strikers resulted from it. Miners at the Lincoln shafts were notified to remove their tools. The Decatur and Mount Pulaski mines are still running and the Lincoln local market is being supplied from the latter point.

Part of the men have returned to the pits of the Taylorville Coal company and the indications are that there will be a full resumption within a few days.
The mine operators at Duquoin published a card notifying all their employees that unless they are in their places ready to work by tomorrow morning they must take out their tools.
The organized miners have decided to continue the strike. Two hundred miners from O'Fallon, Troy, Birkner, Glen-carbon and Belleville passed through Lebanon yesterday en route from Breese
to induce, if possible, the miners at that place to quit work. The effort is be-made this morning.

STRIKERS RIDE TRAINS FREE.

How the Men at the Oak Hill Mines in Ohio Were Brought Out.

Cincinnati, Aug. 24.—A special to The Commercial-Tribune from Wellston, O., says: Seven hundred miners, headed by three brass bands, flagged a mixed freight and passenger train on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad yesterday morning at a crossing in the southern part of this city. The train came to a stop and was boarded by the men; then the trainmen refused to proceed and backed their train back to the station, where they were ordered by the officials of the road to proceed. The miners were en route to Oak Hill, where there was a mine in full operation. Arriving at Oak Hill the strikers marched to the mine and demanded that the men come out. This the men did, but not before being assured that no harm was intended if they conducted themselves right.

The men then held a meeting and informed the strikers that they would not work until the strike was settled. They were then compelled to march with the strikers through the principal streets of Oak Hill. Returning to Wellston, the strikers captured a Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern freight train. Its conductor at first refused to move the train, but went on to Wellston when informed that the miners were going to stay on board until he did move. This is the second time that the strikers have taken the men out of Oak Hill and they informed them that if they were compelled to make a third trip they would make it unpleasant for them. Trouble is feared if any further attempt to mine coal is made.

THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

Criminal and Civil Actions Heard There Today.

Charles Mirkle and Phillip Hiller, two prosperous farmers of Bainbridge, are again in the courts. Three years ago Mirkle brought suit against Hiller and won the case. An appeal to the circuit court was taken but before the day of the trial the appeal was dismissed. Mr. Mirkle and Mr. Hiller live opposite each other but Mr. Mirkle's land is much higher than Mr. Hiller's. A sluice-way is constructed across the road and as often as it rains Mr. Hiller's land is flooded. As a matter of course this angers Hiller who proceeds to dam up the sluice-way, upon which Mirkle tears the embankment away and allows the water to run. Hiller dams up the sluice again and Mirkle brings suit in trespass. The case is having a jury trial in Justice Cady's court today. Hammond & Hammond appear for the plaintiff and Gore & Harvey for the defendant.

Lewis Callaghan who was arraigned before Judge Graves yesterday morning, charged with being drunk and who paid a fine of $2 and costs, again appeared before the judge this morning on the same charge. He told the judge that it was all a mistake and if he would only let him off easy he would leave town. He was fined $5 and costs amounting to $7.65 or 20 days in the county jail. After considerable hustling he raised the money and declared his intention of leaving town before he got into any more trouble.

ST. JOSEPH.

Drake & Wallace, the owners of the only bathing pavilion on Lake Michigan at St. Joseph, have not enjoyed a very profitable business this season from that source. There has been only a very few evenings when the water was of a comfortable temperature for bathing and unless September brings warmer days than August witnessed the owners of the bath houses will not make enough money this season to pay operating expenses.

GENTLEMEN:—I am the dead man that came to see you three years ago last February. At that time I was about in my grave. No one that knew me ever thought that I would ever be any better. My kidneys, liver and lungs were all affected, also my digestive organs, producing heart trouble hence I was about done up and felt so. S. & Co. as a last resort and today am all o. k. on my feet again and have taken up wheat from a good man without trouble, this harvest I raked and mowed and kept up as of old. Who would believe it? No one who did not see me, for I was considered a dead man, or so to speak, when I first saw Dr. Booth. I am 64 years old and I called on Dr. Booth today, walking eight miles to see him, and am going to walk back this p. m., making 16 miles of walk today. I always like to see Dr. Booth and I feel he saved my life, hence I make this long walk. Will answer any questions that anyone wishes to ask about Drs. B. S. & Co., or their treatment. Professor J. MacQueen, of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, said: "I consider the practice of disfiguring cruel because it causes fearful pain and is absolutely unnecessary. I have heard the previous evidence and agree with it."

Professor William Pritchard of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, London, and for 20 years professor at the Royal Veterinary college, Camden Town, had heard the previous evidence and agreed that the operation tortures the animal and is unnecessary.

Professor Cox, Fellow of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons and for some time its president, said, "In my opinion disfiguring is extremely cruel and quite unnecessary."

Professor J. MacQueen, for ten years professor at the Glasgow College of Veterinary Surgeons and afterward at the Royal Veterinary college, Camden Town, said: "The operation is not necessary, and, if performed at all, should be done on the animal before it is 6 or 8 months old. That prevents the horns growing, and the operation is comparatively painless."—Our Animal Friends.

DIAGNOSIS BY GESTURE.

Different Diseases Produce Characteristic Movements of the Limbs.

A medical paper in a recent issue has described the characteristic movements of the limbs made by persons suffering from different diseases. The gestures of the patient when asked to locate his pain not only indicate its seat, but describe its character. Thus, if the pain be in the chest and distributed over a large area the sufferer sweeps the palm of his hand over his chest with a circular motion, but should the pain be local he first draws his hand away from the body and then, with the index finger outstretched and the others curved cautiously, approaches the spot where the trouble is. In appendicitis he holds the palm of the hand over the diseased area without touching the skin. When suffering from violent noninflammatory pains, the patient slaps the abdomen. A child who complains of continuous pain in the stomach, when there is no tenderness on pressure is probably afflicted with disease of the spine. In hip joint disease the pain will be referred to at a point inside the knee. With violent diffused noninflammatory pain in the leg the patient grasps the limb affected. If it be a shooting pain, he will point at the place with one finger. The pain of hepatic neuralgia or shingles is indicated by the thumb or forefinger. In joint pains the patient approaches the seat of trouble cautiously with the hand flat.

A curious case is quoted of a patient complaining of a severe headache. Being asked in what part of the head it was, he answered, "The top," and when further questioned as to the exact spot pressed his finger on the side above the cheek bone. This he did three times, though declaring that the seat of the pain was exactly on the top of the head. The cause of the trouble was found to be a bad tooth.

Richelieu as an Editor.

The first reporter of France was Louis XIII. The National library possesses the manuscripts of 36 articles written by that king. Almost all are accounts of his military operations. These articles were published in the Gazette de France. The "copy," however, did not go directly to the printer. Louis XIII wrote abominable French, and he had vague notions of orthography. His articles were corrected and often entirely rearranged by a secretary named Lucas, who copied them, sending to Richelieu the new manuscript. Richelieu examined it in his turn and often introduced additional corrections. At the siege of Corbie the king wrote a few lines eulogistic of the cardinal, but afterward crossed them out of his article. Richelieu wrote them in again, and so they appeared in the Gazette de France.—Revue de Paris.

The Man Fish.

Matthew Buchinger, mentioned in old English wonder books as the "man fish," was the most remarkable monstrosity of his time. He had neither hands, arms, feet nor legs. From his shoulders grew two finlike excrescences, and along his back there were several rows of scales. He had the lidless eyes characteristic of the fish species and a queer puckered mouth and no ears.

Picking Oakum.

Picking oakum looks very simple, but it is dreadful work. It soon wears the skin off your finger tips, and the monotony of it is perfectly maddening. The usual amount a prisoner in an English jail has to pick in a day is 8½ pounds.

It is calculated from Revelation xxi, 16, that there is ample room in heaven for 997,000,000,000,000 people, or as many as the world would produce in 100,000 centuries.

The population of the earth at the time of the Emperor Augustus is estimated at 24,000,000. It is estimated now to be about 1,000,000,000.

True every day brings its crowds of satisfied buyers, but while things are going fast, they must go faster still. When we say our stock must be sold, 'tis no idle talk—no advertising catch-phrase, the entire stock must go and the prices are going to make you take them away. If you need a Suit or Overcoat, if you think you'd like one, if you're ever going to need one, now is your time to buy, for things must go if low prices will make them go.

THE NEW OFFICIALS.

Appointments Made for the Departments of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus.

A. A. Patterson, Jr. is the General Manager and Other Wise Selections Are Made.

The appointment of officers to manage the various departments of the business of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company was made last night, and the company is now in a position to proceed with the transaction of the general business of a railroad company. The appointments follow:

General Manager—A. A. Patterson, Jr.

Superintendent—D. H. Patterson.

General Freight and Passenger Agent—H. E. Dickinson.

General Agent—L. O. Schaeffer.

Chief Engineer—E. C. Hurd.

The officers are all known here with the exception of Messrs. Johnston and Dickinson, the former having been a resident of South Bend, Ind., and the latter a resident of Milwaukee. They are all experienced in railroad business, and all well equipped for the duties of their respective positions.

A. A. Patterson, Jr., possesses the ability to master the arduous duties of general manager and his brother, D. H. Patterson, is no less able to perform the work connected with the superintendent's office. The honorable business methods adopted by these gentlemen in the capacity of builders of the new road recommend them to the confidence of the public.

Joseph W. Johnston, the auditor, is 30 years of age. He is married and will move his family here from South Bend as soon as he can procure a home. Mr. Johnston served the Mobile & Ohio railway in the capacity of agent and passenger conductor for two years and for the last eight years has been retained by the Studebaker brothers' manufacturing company, of South Bend, as manager of the cost department, which experience peculiarly fits him for his new position.

H. E. Dickinson, general freight and passenger agent, began his career as a railroad man as a brakeman for the St. Paul & Duluth company. He has been in the railroad business for 24 years, having managed the business of the Milwaukee & Eastern transportation company for four years and served the Chicago & Northwestern for five years. For four years he was with the freight department of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. He is married and expects to bring his family here from Milwaukee immediately.

L. O. Schaeffer, the general agent, is not a stranger to Benton Harbor people. Until two years ago he was agent for the Big Four here and for many years has been connected with railroads. He is well qualified for the position he holds.

E. C. Hurd, the chief engineer, has long been a resident of Benton Harbor. He has been employed with the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company as surveyor since its inception. He thoroughly understands the duties of his office.

The company has issued a time card which takes effect next Thursday. It shows the operation of two passenger trains, north and south, between here and Berrien Springs each day. No. 1 leaves here at 7:15 in the morning and arrives at Berrien Springs at 8:05. No. 3 departs at 4:45 in the afternoon and reaches Berrien Springs at 5:35. Going north No. 2 leaves Berrien Springs at 8:30 in the morning and arrives in Benton Harbor at 9:20, and No. 4 leaves Berrien Springs at 6:30 and at 7:30 arrives in Benton Harbor.

The card bears the names of four stations, Benton Harbor, Berrien Springs, Oakland and Buchanan. Trains for the present will go no further than Berrien Springs, the road not being in a condition for traffic beyond that point. The company will begin the carrying of freight at once. The erection of a temporary depot on the company's right-of-way between Park and Territorial streets has begun under the supervision of Contractor Richards and the structure will be in a condition for occupancy in a few days.

PROMPT SETTLEMENT.

Edward Jeru Received $1,750 Insurance Today.

The adjuster of the Imperial Insurance company was in the city today and settled with Edward Jeru for his recent loss of his boarding house and home.

Mr. Jeru held a policy in the Imperial for $1,750 and he was settled with in full.

Plummer & Rifford are the agents for the Imperial company. They have 40 companies and are the largest insurance agency in the state.

Slaughtering Prices.

We are on the warpath and must slaughter our goods if low prices will do it. Next Saturday we will sell a 20-year warranted, gold filled, ladies' or gents' Hunting case watch and a 15 jewel Elgin movement for $14.95. Don't miss it. (That day only.)

THE WEATHER.

PHISCATER'S GOLD.

That's All Baroda People Are Talking About.

Frank Phiscater and his gold is all you can hear on the streets of Baroda. Men forget to wrangle over politics and women to scold their children so intent are they on discussing the miner and his wealth.

Men drive for many miles from the surrounding country to see him and ask questions of the country he has left. To all he is polite and friendly but says he is tired of telling the story over so often.

He says he has a gang of men at work on his claim the foreman of which gets $500 per month. He intends telling his story to some city paper and have them publish it so as to relieve him from the grist of letters that are pouring in from all sides asking how to get there what it costs and what they use in that far away country.

He leaves here Friday for New York to spend a few months and then he will come here and remain until March when he, with two companions will start for the Klondike again. He says $18,000 is what he mined and that the claim is worth $1,000,000.

CHARLES J. GUY MARRIED.

Ceremony Was Solemnized at Kankakee, Ill.

Charles J. Guy of this city and Miss Lotte Barco, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., were married yesterday afternoon at Kankakee, Ill. They arrived in Benton Harbor this morning. Mr. Guy is the owner of the shaving parlors in the Yore block where he does a very extensive business. They will begin house-keeping at once.

AROUND THE WORLD.

James Kakebeke Will Leave for the Trip Tomorrow.

James Kakebeke, who came to this city a few years ago from Holland to attend college and who has since leaving school studied law in the office of Attorney Sears, will leave tomorrow for his home in Holland on the Hague. After spending two months with his parents he will leave for the South African Republic and will make a two-years' trip around the world, taking in the Paris exposition.

Mr. Kakebeke is an ardent admirer of the Topic wheel and is having his wheel crated and will ride it on his trip around the world.

Rise of Wheat Has Forced the Price Up on the Staff of Life.

Owing to the steady rise in wheat, flour has necessarily become more expensive and as a result bread has gone up in price. Although the increase has not become general as yet, one firm has advanced the price to 4 cents.

B. Vandecar, of the Columbian restaurant says: "Every loaf of bread I sell I lose money but nevertheless I will sell as cheap and as long as anyone."

S. M. Austin says: "We are selling at a loss and the price of bread will certainly advance in a few days."

The New Ordinance Goes Into Effect Tomorrow.

The new sidewalk ordinance will go into effect tomorrow, and many of the property holders who have repaired their old walks with the expectation of evading the requirements of the new ordinance will be disappointed.

The street commissioner is instructed by the ordinance to inspect all walks in the city and if he finds an old one, newly repaired, which in his mind is dangerous he will so report it and the council will order a new walk which must be constructed of stone or cement if it happens to be on a street designated in the ordinance as requiring walks of such material.

There are many walks which have been repaired which the street commissioner, upon close inspection, will probably find are not safe; which have decayed foundations and are otherwise defective.

New methods, new styles and low prices are all found at I. O. Ferring's photograph gallery, 129 Pipestone street, ground floor.

Tuesday, August 31, at 1 p. m., I will sell at public auction at my residence, 239 Broadway, 5 cows, horse and buggy and numerous household goods. J. Fisher, auctioneer.

CAMP JEWETT AT BUFFALO AND THE CAMP

FORMALLY OPENED BY CLARKSON. TRI-COLOR FLYING ON ALL SIDES.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Commander-in-Chief Clarkson arrived here yesterday. As he stepped from the train he was warmly welcomed to the Queen City by Justice Truman White, of the reception committee, and Colonel Albert W. Shaw, state commander of the department of New York. Four hundred and fifty veterans, together with the George A. Cook souvere's life and drum corps, accompanied the commander-in-chief from Nebraska. Camp Jewett, the picturesque tent city erected for the accommodation of visiting veterans on a bluff overlooking Lake Erie, and the mouth of the Niagara river, was officially opened by Commander-in-Chief Clarkson yesterday afternoon. The commander-in-chief was escorted from his headquarters by Mayor Jewett and other citizens, and by Bidwell Wilkeson post, of Buffalo, and Columbia post, of Chicago, headed by the regimental band of the Thirtieth United States Infantry, which is assigned to Fort Porter during the encampment.

Gave Him a Salute of Fifteen Guns. As the commander-in-chief entered the camp a salute of fifteen guns was fired in his honor by the federal troops at the fort. The general was escorted to the plaza of a park pavilion situated in the center of the camp, about which thousands of veterans and citizens formed in a hollow square. Stepping to the front of the plaza Mayor Jewett, on behalf of the citizens' committee, presented the camp to the commander-in-chief, who accepted it in a graceful speech. Commander-in-Chief Clarkson entered the pavilion when his remarks were concluded and held an impromptu reception of officers from Fort Porter and officers of the national guard. Later he made an inspection of the camp, in company with the officers of his staff, after which he returned to his headquarters.

Main Street a Blaze of Light. Last night Main street was one blaze of light. The principal streets were simply impassable. Such enormous crowds were assembled that traffic of all kinds was practically at a standstill. A reception was tendered to Commander-in-Chief Clarkson last night at Music hall. A beautiful jeweled badge is to be presented to Clarkson during the encampment. It is the gift of the commander's staff. President McKinley will make the presentation address.

POLITICS OF THE ENCAMPMENT.

Lincoln Leading for Successor to Clarkson—At Cincinnati Next Year. John C. Linehan, of Concord, N. H., is the most formidable of the new candidates for commander-in-chief. Pennsylvania veterans are booming Colonel Gobin, of that state, for commander-in-chief. Already 500 Pennsylvania men are here, and they are all working hard for Colonel Gobin's success. Colonel Gobin arrived here yesterday. A delegation of prominent Cincinnati business men has arrived to press Cincinnati's claims for the national encampment in 1898. There now appears to be no doubt that Cincinnati will have the honor of entertaining the G. A. R. next year; in fact, there appears to be no opposition. The Richmond boomers have arrived in town and immediately proceeded to work for the encampment of 1899. There are eighteen of Richmond's leading men in the party. A prominent member of the delegation is Walter H. Sanary, editor and owner of the Richmond State, who said last night that his committee was doing good missionary work and had every reason to believe it would get the encampment in 1899. Not a delegation approached so far but was in favor of Richmond, and several members of the committee which have the selection of the place are pledged to Richmond. A noble enterprise which is likely to enlist the attention of the Grand Army delegates during the session here is the establishment of a sanitarium for the benefit of veteran soldiers and sailors of the war for the Union. It is proposed to locate on the island with Castle Pinckney in the harbor of Charleston, S. C., a refuge for old soldiers who are ill and congress is asked to take advantage of an offer to the very favorable location for the purpose. The scheme has the indorsement of Commander-in-Chief Clarkson.

NOTHING NEW AT SHEPHERD.

Cashier Struble's Ante-Mortem Statement Thought To Be Valueless. Mount Pleasant, Mich., Aug. 24.—The situation at Shepherd is practically unchanged and the impression is gaining ground that the ante-mortem statement of Cashier Struble cannot be used in the enforcement of arrests. The suspension of the People's Savings bank and the subsequent robbery and murder are being discussed in every phase, but nothing new has developed. The proprietor of the Farmers' bank at Shepherd spent yesterday trying to solve the question of the amount of the liability and getting the pass books of the depositors. All rumors to the effect that vigilance committees have been formed to lynch the murderers in the event of their capture are erroneous and the law will be allowed to take its course.

His Name Is Dennis Now.

Chambersburg, Pa., Aug. 24.—The safe robber who was shot and killed at Canton, O., Sunday night by a policeman at the Canton Savings bank, was George Gerbig, of Chambersburg, better known as "Cooney." He was a barber about 40 years old and had quite a criminal record.

What Makes a Record at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Aug. 24.—What made an other record yesterday, December 24, 1897, was the fact that the St. Louis team won the pennant.

French President Warmly Welcomed by the Emperor and People.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 24.—From early yesterday morning there was a scene of great animation here and a steady flow of people towards the quays, where they embarked on profusely decorated steamers to meet President Faure at Cronstadt. After a rainy night splendid weather prevailed. The final preparations at Peterhof were completed yesterday morning. The magnificent park between the palace and the sea was gloriously decorated with the flags of Russia and France. The latter were to be seen flying everywhere, presenting a fine picture from the sea, with the cascade falling in front of the palace, combined with the beautiful marble terraces and ornamented gilt statues. The streets of Peterhof were crowded from early morning and were gay with court equipages. Contrary to Russian custom, the people were allowed to enter the park and to line the route followed by President Faure and the other high personages.

Czar Hears from the President.

At 9 o'clock in the morning a message announced that the French squadron was thirteen miles distant, and a Cosack was immediately dispatched at a gallop to convey the news to the czar at the Peterhof palace. Another and similar dispatch soon followed from Cronstadt and then the czar emerged from the palace, entered a carriage drawn by two gray horses, and drove to the landing stage. The imperial party embarked on board the Alexandria. The Grand Duke Alexis on board the Histiola, proceeded ahead. The Grand Duke Alexis went alongside the Pothuau, on board of which was the French president, and welcomed the latter to Russia in the name of the czar.

Faure Goes to Meet Nicholas.

A large fleet of pleasure steamers had by that time assembled in the roads and the most intense enthusiasm was manifested when the Grand Duke Alexis and President Faure left the Pothuau and proceeded to the Alexandria. The czar awaited the president at the top of the Alexandria's gangway and the moment M. Faure set foot on the deck of the imperial yacht warm embraces were exchanged between the czar and the president, which were the signal for a storm of cheering, waving of handkerchiefs and other marks of popular and enthusiastic delight. The sailors manned ship at the same time and gave the regulation cheers for the czar and his guest.

Rulers Talk and Smoke.

His majesty when the exchange of salutations had been ended invited the president to the after deck of the Alexandria and offered him cigars. Thereupon they both lighted cigars and engaged in cordial conversation. While President Faure was telling the czar about his voyage the Alexandria reached the landing stage and the two rulers were received by a crowd of Russian dignitaries. A procession was formed and proceeded to the Peterhof palace escorted by Cossacks. The route to the palace was lined with troops and behind the soldiers were massed enthusiastic crowds of people who were frantic in their exclamations. Arriving at the palace President Faure was duly welcomed. Later he was driven to the Alexandria palace where he had luncheon with the czarina.

TRIBESMEN ARE OUT FOR BLOOD.

British Have a Pretty Big Contract in Northern India—Denial of the Amerer, Peshawar, Aug. 24.—The Afridis attacked Fort Ali Musjed at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and Fort Maude shortly after 10. Both are garrisoned with Khyber native levies. The enemy is also entering Khyber pass. General Wesmaccott has sent artillery to the mouth of the pass to shell them if possible. The artillery was accompanied by the Ninth Bengal lancers. Simla, Aug. 24.—There are persistent rumors here that Fort Ali Musjed and Fort Maude, have fallen into the hands of the enemy, but there is no official confirmation of these reports. The government has received a written communication from the Amerer of Afghanistan in which he denies all responsibility for the risings of the mullahs or fanatical priests of the different tribes.

TRIBESMEN ARE OUT FOR BLOOD.

British Have a Pretty Big Contract in Northern India—Denial of the Amerer, Peshawar, Aug. 24.—The Afridis attacked Fort Ali Musjed at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and Fort Maude shortly after 10. Both are garrisoned with Khyber native levies. The enemy is also entering Khyber pass. General Wesmaccott has sent artillery to the mouth of the pass to shell them if possible. The artillery was accompanied by the Ninth Bengal lancers. ARE DISAPPOINTED.

Over 100 Sports Expected to See a Prize Fight.

Pugilists Silverthorn, of Chicago, and "Doc" Calderwood, of this city, had an agreement to meet last night but a misunderstanding at the last moment prevented it.

Over 100 sports had boarded the river steamer Tourist which was to take the principals and the spectators to the big island in the St. Joseph river, a short distance above Napier's bridge, where the contest could be pulled off without interference from the officers. At 11 o'clock the boat was all ready to leave the dock when Calderwood insisted that he would not go until some money was in sight.

He was assured that every man on board the boat would pay $1, but this guarantee was not satisfactory. He wanted the collection made and the money placed in the hands of a disinterested person. He had sized up the crowd and obtained an impression that Silverthorn had too many sympathizers and that there was a possibility of his being mulcted even though he won the fight. The agreement provided that if Calderwood stood up before Silverthorn four rounds he was to receive 60 per cent of the gate receipts, and the defeated fighter 40 per cent.

It was hard to get the gate receipts before the fight was pulled off. The sports were disposed to see the fight before parting with their $1 and as none of them had any inclination to advance $100 for a stake and assume the risk of being able to collect it from the spectators Calderwood's demands could not be acceded to.

Calderwood was not overly anxious to go against Silverthorn in the feeble light of torches on an island where Silverthorn's friends outnumbered his 10 to one. He had some doubt of being able to get justice and therefore was not particularly anxious to see any money. Calderwood did not go aboard the boat and when the confab was ended and he started to leave the dock one of the sports shouted, "I am worth $10,000 and I have $150 in my hand which is yours if you stay two rounds with Silverthorn." The offer was not accepted.

The crowd on the boat included sports from Chicago, Watervliet and Coloma in addition to the local prize fighting admirers. Calderwood claims that he has had the short end of the stick all along; that the agreement was to have the contest at Pottawatomie park last Sunday afternoon. Silverthorn backed out and insisted that it be held in St. Joseph last night. Later he informed Calderwood that the officers had threatened to pinch them if they fought in St. Joseph and proposed the plan of going up the river. Calderwood conceded until he discovered there was no money up when he weakened.

STATE FINANCES.

The Last Legislature Cost the People Over $125,000.

LANSING, August 24.—There is a vast amount of information that is of interest and importance to the taxpayers of Michigan in the report of State Treasurer Steel for the last fiscal year, inasmuch as it sets forth in detail the financial transactions of the state for that period.

The receipts of the year from all sources were $3,003,129.57, and the disbursements $3,731,663.96. The balance at the close of the year was $783,898.04, as against $912,422.43 in 1896.

The condition of the several funds at the close of the year was as follows: Balance in general fund, $540,027.27; Agricultural college interest fund, $37,374.40; Normal school interest fund, $989.18; primary school interest fund, $110,233.63; university interest fund, $19,816.84; sundry deposits account, $5,519.50; St. Mary's canal fund, $68,927.12.

The outstanding bonds of the state now are $10,992.83 past due five million 100 bonds, which bear no interest.

The trust fund debt is as follows: Agricultural college fund, $569,951.82; normal school fund, $65,945.12; primary school fund, 5 per cent, $829,069.38; primary school fund, 7 per cent, $3,815,457.69; university fund, $529,021.59; total, $8,810,045.60.

The general fund disbursements of $2,717,693.14 included all the appropriations for the state institutions for the year. Other of the more important items are as follows: Support of the insane, $502,063.08; awards of board of state auditors, $181,374.69; support of militia, $51,065.64; salaries of state officers, clerks and judges of courts, $370,626.83; expense of sales and collecting delinquent state tax, $61,007.75; per diem, mileage, stationary and other expenses of the last legislature, $125,330.33.

No legislative appropriation for the current expenses of the penal institutions of the state is made, these institutions being permitted to draw from the state treasury whatever may be necessary for this purpose. The amounts drawn during the year were as follows: State house of correction, $58,000; state prison, $16,000; Marquette prison, $36,000. The balance of the expense was paid out of the earnings.

Cyclists on M. C. Track at Gallien Pay $1 Each.

GALIEN, August 24.—The Michigan Central railroad, with its double track between Kensington and Niles, has become quite a place for cross-country bicycle-riders. A few days ago the company set up signs as follows:

"Warning! Bicycle riding on railroad right of way is dangerous, unlawful and strictly forbidden."

This proves to be a good thing for a well-dressed fellow who rides along the track and taxes every bicycle rider he meets $1 for the privilege of riding. He represents himself as an official of the road.

It Will be Had by E. A. Nichols, Alaskan Party.

The Alaskan party of which E. A. Nichols will be a member will have a capital of $20,000. All of the fortune seekers but Mr. Nichols live at Seymour, Mo., and include M. L. Winans, well known in Benton Harbor.

The party will start between February 1 and 15 and the route it will take depends on the conveniences, if any, the government will provide for tourists taking the over land route. In its present condition that route is unpopular except to those capable of enduring great hardships. It is expected that easier means of reaching the Klondike by the mountain pass will be provided by spring in which case Mr. Nichols and his party will take that route.

Constitution and Guerriers.

The Constitution's guns were double shot with round and grape. The broadside was as one single explosion, and the destruction was terrific. The enemy's decks were flooded, and the blood ran out of the scuppers—her cockpit filled with the wounded. For a few minutes, shrouded in smoke, they fought at the distance of half pistol shot. In that short time the Englishman was literally torn to pieces in hull, spars, sails and rigging. As her mizzenmast gave way the Englishman brought up to the wind, and the Constitution slowly forged ahead, fired again, luffed short round the other's bows and, owing to a heavy sea, fell foul of her antagonist, with her bowsprit across her larboard quarter. While in this position Hull's cabin was set on fire by the enemy's forward battery, and part of the crew were called away from the guns to extinguish the threatening blaze. — Barnes' "Naval Actions of the War of 1812."

Gene Over to Bacon.

A "Dead" Man Tells His Story.

HOWARD CITY, MICH., July 21, 1897. To Drs. B. S. & Co.

GENTLEMEN:—I am the dead man that came to see you three years ago last February. At that time I was about in my grave. No one that knew me ever thought that I would ever be any better. My kidneys, liver and lungs were all affected, also my digestive organs, producing heart trouble hence I was about done up and felt so. I did not think there was help for me, but as it is said a dying man will catch at a straw, I tried Drs. B. S. & Co. as a last resort and today am all o. k. on my feet again and have taken up wheat from a good man without trouble this harvest I raked and bound and kept up as of old. Who would believe it? No one who did not see me, for I was considered a dead man, or so to speak, when I first saw Dr. Booth. I am 64 years old and I called on Dr. Booth today, walking eight miles to see him, and am going to walk back this p. m., making 16 miles of walk today. I always like to see Dr. Booth and I feel he saved my life, hence I make this long walk. Will answer any questions that anyone wishes to ask about Drs. B. S. & Co., or their treatment. My address is Amble. W. T. CARR.

These renowned physicians will visit St. Joseph, Lake View hotel, Tuesday, August 24; Benton Harbor, Hotel Benton, Wednesday, August 25; Coloma, Teeter hotel, Thursday, August 26; in the private parlor of the hotels.

ACCORDING to Newitt, commissioner of mineral statistics, there are rich gold fields in this state. If discoveries of gold mines multiply to a much greater extent the gold bugs will be glad to trade gold for dollar wheat and the people will turn their attention to digging for wheat instead of for gold.

Now that the mushroom season is at its height, cases of toadstool poisoning are reported daily. The insurance companies should insert in their medical examination blanks the question, "Will you agree to abstain from fresh mushrooms?" However, on second thought, it seems probable that a man who is foolish enough to fool with unauthenticated mushrooms seldom has forethought enough to get his life insured.

Yellowstone Lake.
"There is an individuality about lakes. Perhaps the most striking thing about Yellowstone lake is its high altitude. It is up among the mountains and clouds in Yellowstone park nearly a mile and a half—7,741 feet—above where the sportive summer girls sit on the beach at the Atlantic ocean while the lazy wavelets ripple about her dainty toes. But as high as it is the mountains rise higher still by thousands of feet. In a solemn, owl-like fashion they blink down at the lake, and the lake blinks back at them. These mountains are well defined peaks, and cones, and turrets, and nearly all are named. Some of them are in this way redolent of the old explorers, the men who first braved the perils and difficulties of an unknown, untrodden wilderness. Such are Colter peak and Mount Doane."
The above is taken from "Wonderland '97," a beautiful new Tourist book published by the Northern Pacific railway. It will be mailed to any address upon receipt of six cents in stamps by CHAS. S. FEE, Gen'l Pass. agent, St. Paul, Minn.

THE NOSE AND THE FOOT.

A Pigeon's Nose and Feet Discovered People Have Crooked Noses.

A professor of physical culture announces that he has discovered an intimate connection between deformities of the nose and the position of the feet. His name is H. L. Piner, and he communicates his observations to the New York Journal:
"You can tell a pigeon-toed person without looking at his feet or seeing him walk. The discovery was made by me in 1891 while teaching physical culture. I found a stubborn awkwardness in the movements of my pupils' feet. Looking for the cause, I found that many of them were pigeon-toed. In others one foot was correct and the other turned in.

"In teaching correct breathing I had to investigate the condition of the nasal passages. Then I found that wherever the person was pigeon-toed in the right foot the right nostril was stopped up or otherwise deformed. It was the same with the left foot or nostril. If both nostrils were defective, both feet were pigeon-toed.

At one time I examined 26 persons, and every one of them was pigeon-toed in the left foot, with a corresponding defect in the left nostril. At another time I examined over 40 with a view to testing my discovery. Some of them had well developed nostrils and were not at all pigeon-toed. Some had overwide nostrils, with overwide angles at the feet to correspond.

"Girls I found more generally and worse pigeon-toed than boys. The person who has a whining or snuffing voice is usually pigeon-toed.

"Another discovery is that with the defective nostrils were found invariably stooped shoulders and hollow chests, the stoop and hollow always bearing a direct ratio with the defect. In extreme cases there was an ugly protrusion of the abdomen, a tendency to draw back and upward the upper lip, exposing the teeth, that have also an unsightly protruding tendency.

"Conversely, tell him to place the end of the thumb under and against the nostrils alternately, breathing through the open one each time, and ask him which nostril admits the greater amount of air. If it is the left, tell him he is pigeon-toed in the right foot and vice versa. Demonstrate by having him walk naturally.

"Remember that the proper angle is 30 degrees on either side of the median line, or 60 degrees with both feet. Do not close the nostril from the side, but gently from underneath."

English Divorce Laws.

The children of the marriage are the husband's if he chooses to have them, but if he does not care to perform a father's duty the wife must support them. If he is unfaithful to her, she cannot divorce him (in England) unless he has also committed the ungentlemanly sin of personal cruelty, and in all cases of divorce and separation it is a man's reading of the man made laws that entirely decides not only the case, but the consequences, as to the custody of the children and the amount of alimony. And if, despairing of justice, the faithful wife endures patiently through life for the sake of her children's future, the English law permits an unfaithful husband and father at death to will away every penny of his property from his wife and children to a charity, a stranger or a mistress, possibly leaving those whom the law made his dependents dependent on the raterayers of his parish. This is not possible in Scotland, nor was it formerly possible in England. The law of dower protected the widow until this century, when men tinkered the laws so as to gain a larger latitude for themselves. The operation of this masculine privilege often gives opportunity for cruel oppression not dreamed of by right minded men. In fact, it is only because the large majority of men are better than the laws allow them to be that society is possible.—Humanita

THESE PECULIAR TRICKS ARE NATURAL AND NOT ACQUIRED.

The Movements by Which They Dismount a Would Be Rider—Tricks of the Horse Who Has a Colt to Sell—Bough Riders of Different Countries.

"How does it feel to ride a buck jumper?"

Many years ago we asked this question of a well known rough rider on first meeting him.

"You'll be surprised when you try," was the reply. "The smash of his hoofs on the ground is what you'll notice principally. It comes like a pistol shot, and it's enough to make your jaws crack.
Another thing is that his head goes out at right angles, between his fore legs. But the real job is when he goes in for side work and tries to catch his tail like a young dog. Even if you stick to him then, you're lucky if he doesn't work the saddle over his head."

"You don't mean without breaking the girths?" we exclaimed.

"Certainly," he replied. "Ask any man who has broken wild horses whether a bad one can't jump out of the saddle.
If you can sit him till the third 'back,' you are supposed to be able to sit him, but let me say that you don't always get to the third."

As we have sat (and also been thrown) by buck jumpers since then we can indorse unreservedly every word of this authority on the subject. To say one is surprised is a mild term to employ. On our first attempt our chief astonishment was at the infinitesimal time it took to reach the ground after the horse began to "go to work."

Many who know anything of riding in this (so called) horse loving nation of ours will think they have ridden a "buck" often and require no information on the subject. Be assured, however, reader, that it is an exceedingly rare thing. We have known men who have broken horses on colonial cattle stations for 30 years and have never seen a real buck jumper.

A reason for this is the fact, which all do not know, that only horses of certain strains can "buck." A vicious horse may rear and fall back on his rider, or he may roll on the ground and proceed to devour him—and these habits are no doubt unpleasant and not to be recommended (in a child's pony, for instance), but if he hasn't got the right breed he will never "buck."

One of the innumerable popular dejections about horses is that buck jumpers which are exhibited in public, like Buffalo Bill's, for instance, have received careful training in the art. Any one who has broken horses will know that in their wild state they require no instruction whatever in this direction.
The whole art of breaking consists in teaching them not to "buck." This is why our colonies supply the buck jumpers of the world. Time there is money, and hands cannot long be spared for breaking. The 2-year-old is driven into the yard (having possibly never seen a man before), roped up, cast, and while he is on the ground a saddle and bridle are worked on to him. A rough rider is put up, he drives the spurs well home, and there you have an inveterate buck jumper for life.

Put yourself in the horse's place, and you will hardly wonder at it. He is by nature morbidly nervous, and man is a thing almost unknown till now. The horrid black object on his back is to him the foul fiend incarnate, and the first step in breaking he supposes to be the final dissolution of the universe.

In Australia it used to be no uncommon thing that a man who had a colt to sell got him broken in two hours before the sale. The whole process cost just 10 shillings.

The rough rider was hoisted up, and the colt went through his repertoire of contortions, being occasionally lashed from behind with a stock whip to insure all traces of vice being thoroughly eradicated. By the time of the sale he was naturally so exhausted that all attempts at "playing up" were (for the time being, of course) out of the question. The mark of the saddle was pointed out as proof positive that he could be ridden, and he changed hands, guaranteed thoroughly quiet and broken to saddle.

Unless he was a first class rider the experience of the buyer on mounting him next day would be both unexpected and exhilarating.

Who are the best riders in the world?
The Australians say they are, and they are supported by most competent judges.
South Americans claim to be as good, and they are certainly good riders, but not so scientific. They are satisfied if they can stick on and even resort to putting the spurs between the girths for a foothold. Australians would scorn such means. If good riders, they will sit correctly even under the most difficult circumstances.

Can buck jumping be cured? It cannot, or rather we should modify this statement by saying that it can. It cannot because buck jumping is an ingrained vice, the result of fear, and, once learned, is never forgotten. It can, like all other vices, be subdued by steady work and careful handling, but recollect that, once these are left off, it may return. At all events such a "reformed" animal can never be ridden by a lady.— Chambers Journal.

He Knew Her Name.

The following funny dialogue recently occurred in an English country church when the rector was catechizing the children. "What is your name?" he asked a strapping girl of 18, the only daughter of the village benefactor. He received no reply. "What is your name?" said the minister, in a more peremptory way. "Min o' yer fan, parson. Ye kinna name none o' our names. Ye kinna name none o' our
names."

At the sale of the Masarin library in London a copy of the Masarin Bible brought the good sized sum of $90,000.
The Masarin Bible is so called because a copy of it was first discovered by De Bure in the library of Cardinal Masarin in Paris, about 1760. Its value for book collectors lies in the fact that it is the first book of any magnitude printed from movable types. It was issued by Gutenberg at Mainz, in 1450-5, and for that reason Henry Stevens calls it the Gutenberg Bible. It is divided into two volumes, the first containing 824 and the second 817 pages, each page consisting of two columns. The characters, which are Gothic, are large and handsome and very much resemble manuscript. Before the discovery of this Bible the so called Bamberg Bible of Pfa-ter was generally regarded as the first printed book, but that honor is now universally accorded to the former work.

According to Dr. Austin Allibone, there are six known copies of the Masarin Bible on vellum, one of which is the volume found in the Masarin library.
The copies on vellum, however, are later than the copies on paper, 21 of which are known to be in existence. There is a vellum copy of the Bible in the British museum and a paper copy in the Lenox library of this city. The present value of a perfect copy of the Masarin Bible on paper is about $15,000, and those on vellum are valued at about $30,000. Practically, however, their value is a variable quantity, depending on what the book collectors are willing to give for them. It has long been a matter of dispute whether the types employed in printing this Bible were metallic or wooden, but the question is still undecided. As a specimen of early printing the work is magnificent, containing richly embellished capitals in blue, red and purple.—New York Tribune.

A SMUGGLER'S TRICK.

He Carried His Wares Openly, Yet Fooled
the Customs Officials.

"All this talk about smuggling recalls some of the things I learned when I was in the service," announced a retired crook catcher the other day. "New ways of beating the government are being devised right along, and many of the tricks I discovered are old now.
There used to be more trouble with the diamond smugglers than there appears to be at present. I have found the sparklers in women's back hair, hat ornaments, hollowed shoe heels and sewed up in various articles of wear, in dog collars, in horses' hocks, in fruits and vegetables, in trunks with false bottoms, in pipes and cigars, in clogs, on the necks of carrier pigeons and even buried in men's flesh after the manner of the Kaffir diamond thieves."

"But the man who did the slickest business without ever being suspected told me about it afterward. He was a retired detective who had served with great credit. Shortly before resigning he claimed to have received a beautiful diamond ring with three very large stones from a New Yorker for whom he had been able to save a good deal of money. It was certainly a magnificent ring, and the matter was duly exploited in the papers. He professed to be doing a private business that took him across the river frequently, and he would often use the ferry three or four times a day. He always wore the dazzling ring, and I looked at it every day for months.
Yet that fellow was making big money smuggling diamonds."

"How? Why, he had a paste ring made exactly like the genuine one. He would wear the paste one over, leave it to be set with diamonds, wear them back, have them replaced with paste and thus carry on the game right before our admiring eyes. We never suspected the rascal."—Detroit Free Press.

A Great Shot.

The Duke of Malakoff was at a bat-tue at Strathfieldsaye and shot nothing, much to his disgust, and when the day was over it appeared that he would be extremely put out unless he was allowed or enabled to kill something. So in spite of all the gamekeeper could think, feel or say a pheasant was procured, tied by its leg to the top of a post, and Malakoff was put some 80 yards off with a double barreled gun. It was supposed that he would thereupon and thence take two shots at the bird. Not a bit of it. He loaded both barrels, walked close up to the pheasant, put the muzzle close to him and discharged both barrels into him, with "He! co-quin." The next day the Duke of Wellington told the keeper that Malakoff was a great man who had smoked to death 500 Arab men, women and children in a cave, to which the gamekeeper replied: "Like enough, your grace.
He'd be capable of anything."—"Letters of Lord Blackford."

The Very Earliest Coins.

No one knows exactly when or where the original coin was "struck" or what metal was used. Certain passages in Homer would lead to the inference that brass was coined as early as the year 1184 B. C. Tradition affirms that the Chinese had bronze coins as early as the year 1180 B. C. But Herodotus, the acknowledged "Father of History," is of the opinion that the Lydians "invented" coins some time during the ninth century B. C. One of the oldest coins now known is a gold daric, coined by the Persians during the reign of Darius. On one side of this coin is a bust of Darius and on the other side a

White Dome Geyser Yellowstone Park.

"A mile and a half from the Fountain Hotel, and easily reached by bicycle, tourist wagon, or by walking, lies a hidden basin full of nature's caprices.
At the entrance, as if on guard, stands the immaculate White Dome. As one approaches, he almost expects to be challenged and asked for a countersign.
If such a challenge is given it is in a curious fashion, in the form of a geyser eruption, for the White Dome is a geyser. It is not unlike the Castle Geyser, or the White Pyramid of the Upper Geyser Basin. The geyser is a very white, rather dome-shaped mound, built up from the secretions of its waters, and is the most conspicuous feature of the locality. It is perhaps 25 feet high, with a circumference at the base of 75 or 100 feet. Its eruptions come at intervals of from twenty to forty-five minutes, being somewhat irregular, and the water is thrown to a height of from ten to twenty-five feet."

Conference Between Coal Operators and Strike Leaders Begins with Animation.
CHICAGOAN JUMPS ON RATCHFORD.
Turns Himself Loose with a Lot of Uncom-
plimentary Adjectives and Then Leaves
the Meeting—Nothing Important Done,
But Will Confer Again Today—Ratchford
Makes Some Comments on Rend—Debs
Calls on the Social Democracy to Go to St.
Louis—in Indiana and Illinois.
Pittsburg, Aug. 24.—It was a lively
meeting of operators and mine workers
here yesterday. During the forenoon
there was a split among the producers.
The miners' officials wanted to know if
every operator in the district was represented; they received a negative reply,
and in turn told the operators that there were others down stairs, notably John Blythe and J. W. Shields, who were not represented. They adjourned and promised to have the remaining operators
present. At the afternoon session there
National President Ratchford, National
Secretary-Treasurer Pearce, District
McKay and Secretary Warner. President Ratchford made a statement of the
crocodile tears the conditions were deplored by the operators. Now, he said, it was different, the operators had come
wages.
Rend Turns Himself Loose.
This brought Colonel W. P. Rend to
arbitration on the lines as laid down by Ratchford. He referred to the meeting at St. Louis. When Ratchford intimated that a universal strike and a demand for
the wage question would be the result of the St. Louis convention Colonel Rend replied by calling Ratchford a villain, traitor, blackguard and anarchist. With emphasis he told him that seven anarchists had been hung in Chicago, and
cipitated an insurrection in this country
Colonel Rend left the conference in a rage.
Then the Work Began.
Then the conference got down to work.
President Ratchford made an apology
for some of the statements he had made
and Dolan made a statement that his position was almost similar to that of Ratchford. The operators then decided that a committee be appointed to meet with the miners' officials and if possible
come to some agreement. A short conference was held with the committee and
possible arrive at some conclusion. The conference was held and it lasted for
until 10 o'clock this morning without a conclusion being reached. The point at issue is the rate of wages which shall be paid pending the decision of the board of arbitrators.
Ratchford "Alludes at" Rend.
In the course of a statement Ratch-
ford made last night he said: "If I am
a traitor to the cause of labor why should Colonel Rend and I disagree?
Rend accused John McBride of selling
the strike of 1894; he accused Phil Penna,
whom I succeeded, of being a coal operator and working in league with operators. It is the most natural thing that he should accuse me after disagreement.
I am not the least bit alarmed about Rend's accusation. I would have as
friendship. John Nugent, of Ohio, and Pat Dolan, of Pittsburg, were also among
the accused men. In fact everybody who
Debs Calls on His Organization.
Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 24.—Eugene
V. Debs yesterday issued a call "To the Social Democracy, and all lovers of liberty and fair play," to attend the conference at St. Louis next Monday, when,
he says, "prompt, united and vigorous
action will be taken" in regard to the
miners' strike, and especially the course of the judiciary in issuing restraining orders. He says: "The hour has struck
to call a halt." In conclusion he says:
"Every atom of American manhood revolts against the spectacle. Judges by
the usurpation of power and playing the role of tyrants have annihilated the
constitution, abrogated the right of trial
by jury, forbidden free speech, suppressed peaceable assembly and transformed our republic into absolute despotism. They are guilty of judicial
at the bar of an outraged people."

What Judge Terhune Has to Say of His Experiences in That State.
Lebanon, Ind., Aug. 24.—Judge Thomas J. Terhune, of this city, the commissioner appointed by Governor Mount to investigate the condition and grievances
of the striking coal miners of this state, delivered an address on the subject before a large audience at the Methodist church Sunday night. His description of the scenes of distress and want
which came to his notice while visiting
the mining camps was touching to the extreme. Judge Terhune said in part:
"The cause of the striking miners is one which must appeal to the sympathy of all who are acquainted with their condition and grievances.
"That their cause is just none can deny. A few years ago they received $1.25 per ton. Now the wages paid for ordinary pick mining in Indiana, after deducting the cost of blacksmithing,
powder and other expenses, average
about 35 cents per ton. A good miner
can probably take out three tons a day.
They are allowed to work only two or
most discouraging conditions. In the block coal region, where the vein is only three feet thick, they are often compelled
to lay on their side for hours waiting
for cars to be furnished.
"The judge told of a child dying of starvation and of a family no member of which had worn shoes or stockings for over a year, and said this condition

Organized Labor Will Meet Tonight and Denounce the Same.
Pittsburg, Aug. 24.—The shooting affair
among the Italian miners of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company
was made the occasion of a call for a general meeting of organized labor this evening at Knights of Labor hall. The call is as follows: "Armed assassins in the employ of the corporations are intimidating and shooting down our brothers who are struggling for living wages. We feel that appeals to the courts would be useless for reasons
known to all of us. In order, then, to get your advice and assistance at this
trying time we are earnestly requesting
and our children's future liberty to
evening, Aug. 26, 1897." This is signed by J. P. Dolan and William Warner, of
the Mine Workers.
The call is endorsed by Paul St. Peter,
secretary of the Window Glass Workers; M. F. Carrack, general president of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators; W. J. Smith, president of
the American Flint Glass Workers; N.
M. Garland, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, and J. D. McFarland, of the Knights of Labor. "The shooting at Oak Hill," said Secretary Warner,
"shows beyond a doubt that what I said
to Judge Stowe at the injunction hearings was true. The intimidation is all practiced by the other side. Men are encouraged to go and attack those who
and when they refuse fire arms are to
be used to coerce them."
President Dolan, had a narrow escape from death at 9 a. m. yesterday,
and John McLuckie, the camp commissary, was badly hurt by being struck
along the Panhandle tracks to catch a train at Sturgeon station. They did not notice the train they were to take was not on the usual track, and it came up behind them. McLuckie was struck on the right side and fell. He was stunned and Dolan was shoved aside. He called to McLuckie to his still, for if he had moved a couple of inches he would have been crushed.
Dolan said it was the closest call he
were arrested at "Camp Injunction," at
the Bunola mines for disorderly conduct
and sent to jail for ten days, were released during the morning. All re-
AT THE ILLINOIS DIGGINGS.
Several Changes in the Situation but Nothing Startling Happening.
St. Louis, Aug. 24.—Specials to The Republic from different sections of the Illinois coal fields show the various changes that have taken place during the past twenty-four hours. At Fair-
bury the band of striking coal miners
which has been camping near that city
since Saturday night apparently has gained its point, as the miners at both
the Co-operative and Walton Brothers'
shafts came out at noon yesterday, and
joined the strikers.
The only development in the strike
situation at Decatur was the discovery
by the leaders of the Springfield strikers
that during the night most of the men
from that city had packed up and
marched home. A meeting was held last night, but it is not expected that
anything to encourage the strikers resulted from it. Miners at the Lincoln shafts were notified to remove their
tools. The Decatur and Mount Pulaski
mines are still running and the Lincoln local market is being supplied from the latter point.
Part of the men have returned to the
pits of the Taylorville Coal company
and the indications are that there will be a full resumption within a few days.
The mine operators at Duquoin published a card notifying all their employees that unless they are in their places ready to work by tomorrow
morning they must take out their tools.
The organized miners have decided to
ers from O'Fallon, Troy, Birkner, Glen-carbon and Belleville passed through Lebanon yesterday en route from Breese
to induce, if possible, the miners at that place to quit work. The effort is being made this morning.
STRIKERS RIDE TRAINS FREE.
How the Men at the Oak Hill Mines in Ohio Were Brought Out.
Cincinnati, Aug. 24.—A special to The Commercial-Tribune from Wellston, O., says: Seven hundred miners, headed by
three brass bands, flagged a mixed
freight and passenger train on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad
yesterday morning at a crossing in the southern part of this city. The train came to a stop and was boarded by the
men; then the trainmen refused to proceed and backed their train back to the station, where they were ordered by the officials of the road to proceed. The miners were en route to Oak Hill, where
there was a mine in full operation. Arriving at Oak Hill the strikers marched
to the mine and demanded that the men
come out. This the men did, but not because being assured that no harm was
right.
The men then held a meeting and informed the strikers that they would not work until the strike was settled. They
Oak Hill. Returning to Wellston, the strikers captured a Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern freight train. Its conductor at first refused to move the train,
but went on to Wellston when informed
that the miners were going to stay on board until he did move. This is the second time that the strikers have taken
the men out of Oak Hill and they informed them that if they were compelled to make a third trip they would make it unpleasant for them. Trouble is feared if any further attempt to mine
coal is made.

THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

Criminal and Civil Actions Heard There Today.

Charles Mirkle and Phillip Hiller, two prosperous farmers of Bainbridge, are again in the courts. Three years ago Mirkle brought suit against Hiller and won the case. An appeal to the circuit court was taken but before the day of the trial the appeal was dismissed. Mr. Mirkle and Mr. Hiller live opposite each other but Mr. Mirkle's land is much higher than Mr. Hiller's. A sluice-way is constructed across the road and as often as it rains Mr. Hiller's land is flooded. As a matter of course this angers Hiller who proceeds to dam up the sluice-way, upon which Mirkle tears the embankment away and allows the water to run. Hiller dams up the sluice again and Mirkle brings suit in trespass. The case is having a jury trial in Justice Cady's court today. Hammond & Hammond appear for the plaintiff and Gore & Harvey for the defendant.

Lewis Callaghan who was arraigned before Judge Graves yesterday morning, charged with being drunk and who paid a fine of $2 and costs, again appeared before the judge this morning on the same charge. He told the judge that it was all a mistake and if he would only let him off easy he would leave town. He was fined $5 and costs amounting to $7.65 or 20 days in the county jail. After considerable hustling he raised the money and declared his intention of leaving town before he got into any more trouble.

ST. JOSEPH.

Drake & Wallace, the owners of the only bathing pavilion on Lake Michigan at St. Joseph, have not enjoyed a very profitable business this season from that source. There has been only a very few evenings when the water was of a comfortable temperature for bathing and unless September brings warmer days than August witnessed the owners of the bath houses will not make enough money this season to pay operating expenses.

HOWARD CITY, MICH., July 21, 1897. To Drs. B. S. & Co.

GENTLEMEN:—I am the dead man that came to see you three years ago last February. At that time I was about in my grave. No one that knew me ever thought that I would ever be any better. My kidneys, liver and lungs were all affected, also my digestive organs, producing heart trouble hence I was about done up and felt so. I did not think there was help for me, but as it is said a dying man will catch at a straw, I tried Drs. B. S. & Co. as a last resort and today am all o. k. on my feet again and have taken up with wheat from a good man without trouble this harvest I raked and bound and kept up as of old. Who would believe it? No one who did not see me, for I was considered a dead man, or so to speak, when I first saw Dr. Booth. I am 64 years old and I called on Dr. Booth today, walking eight miles to see him, and am going to walk back this p. m., making 16 miles of walk today. I always like to see Dr. Booth and I feel he saved my life, hence I make this long walk. Will answer any questions that anyone wishes to ask about Drs. B. S. & Co., or their treatment. My address is Amble.

Professor William Fitchard, of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, London, and for 30 years professor at the Royal Veterinary college, Camden Town, had heard the previous evidence and agreed that the operation tortures the animal and is unnecessary.

Professor Cox, Fellow of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons and for some time its president, said, "In my opinion dishorning is extremely cruel and quite unnecessary."

Professor J. Macqueen, for ten years professor at the Glasgow College of Veterinary Surgeons and afterward at the Royal Veterinary college, Camden Town, said: "The operation is not necessary, and, if performed at all, should be done on the animal before it is 6 or 8 months old. That prevents the horns growing, and the operation is comparatively painless."—Our Animal Friends.

A medical paper in a recent issue has described the characteristic movements of the limbs made by persons suffering from different diseases. The gestures of the patient when asked to locate his pain not only indicate its seat, but describe its character. Thus, if the pain be in the chest and distributed over a large area the sufferer sweeps the palm of his hand over his chest with a circular motion, but should the pain be local he first draws his hand away from the body and then, with the index finger outstretched and the others curved cautiously, approaches the spot where the trouble is. In appendicitis he holds the palm of the hand over the diseased area without touching the skin. When suffering from violent noninflammatory pains, the patient slaps the abdomen. A child who complains of continuous pain in the stomach, when there is no tenderness on pressure is probably afflicted with disease of the spine. In hip joint disease the pain will be referred to at a point inside the knee. With violent diffused noninflammatory pain in the leg the patient grasps the limb affected. If it be a shooting pain, he will point at the place with one finger.

The pain of hepatic neuralgia or shingles is indicated with the thumb or forefinger. In joint pains the patient approaches the seat of trouble cautiously with the hand flat.

A curious case is quoted of a patient complaining of a severe headache. Being asked in what part of the head it was, he answered, "The top," and when further questioned as to the exact spot pressed his finger on the side above the cheek bone. This he did three times, though declaring that the seat of the pain was exactly on the top of the head. The cause of the trouble was found to be a bad tooth.

Richelieu as an Editor.

The first reporter of France was Louis XIII. The National library possesses the manuscripts of 86 articles written by that king. Almost all are accounts of his military operations. These articles were published in the Gazette de France. The "copy," however, did not go directly to the printer. Louis XIII wrote abominable French, and he had vague notions of orthography. His articles were corrected and often entirely rearranged by a secretary named Lucien, who copied them, sending to Richelieu the new manuscript. Richelieu examined it in his turn and often introduced additional corrections. At the siege of Corbie the king wrote a few lines eulogistic of the cardinal, but afterward crossed them out of his article. Richelieu wrote them in again, and so they appeared in the Gazette de France.—Revue de Paris.

The Man Fish.

Matthew Buchinger, mentioned in old English wonder books as the "man fish," was the most remarkable monstrosity of his time. He had neither hands, arms, feet nor legs. From his shoulders grew two finlike excrescences, and along his back there were several rows of scales. He had the lidless eyes characteristic of the fish species and a queer puckered mouth and no ears.

Picking oakum looks very simple, but it is dreadful work. It soon wears the skin off your finger tips, and the monotony of it is perfectly maddening. The usual amount a prisoner in an English jail has to pick in a day is 3½ pounds.

It is calculated from Revelation xxi, 16, that there is ample room in heaven for 397,000,000,000,000 people, or as many as the world would produce in 100,000 centuries.

The population of the earth at the time of the Emperor Augustus is estimated at 24,000,000. It is estimated now to be about 1,400,000,000.
